

I would like to say that it is a relief not get telemarketing calls. I have two young children, and do not have time to deal with the extra unwanted calls; especially during meal and bedtimes. I do not feel like I am missing out on any products by not receiving these unwanted calls. If I wanted to learn more, I would use the internet.